Sheriff Warns Worthless Check Passers Active

Sheriff Bailey Grant Wednesday warned local business establishments of worthless checks which are being passed in this area. The passing of the checks began approximately two weeks before Christmas and have continued through January 15.

For the most part the checks are in denominations of $20 and are cashed in grocery and drug stores, after purchases are made. The purchases are paid for, Sheriff Grant said, by the check and the remainder is taken in cash.

Fictitious names and addresses are used in the signing of the checks, which are mostly made out "cash." Names used on some of the checks, already in the hands of the sheriff department, include "John W. Moore," "Paul W. Moore," and "Fred W. Moore."

A tentative description of one man believed to have been passing checks indicated the suspect is approximately 40 years old, 5 feet 9 inches, weighs about 175 pounds and has light hair turning grey.

Anyone having any information about any checks with the three named or who might have cashed checks with the above names is urged to contact the Ouachita Parish Sheriff Department.

Morrison Is Easy Victor, Brahney 2nd

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Mayor deLesseps Morrison easily won his third term as mayor of Louisiana's largest city and most of his candidates had clear majorities.

Complete but unofficial returns from 312 precincts in yesterday's Democratic primary gave the 42-year-old Morrison 94,194 votes. Thomas M. Brahney Jr., a member of the Commission Council, was next in the field of nine with 49,449 votes.

Morrison and others who won nominations will face the formality of a general election in April.

Leon D. Hubert Jr., associate professor of law at Tulane and candidate for district attorney on Morrison's ticket, had a substantial lead over Clarence Dowling, who ran on the Brahney ticket, but lacked a majority.

In returns from 311 precincts, Hubert had 61,187 votes against 38,199 for Dowling. There were six other candidates in the race.

Those with clear majorities on the Morrison ticket were Dr. Nicholas J. Chetta, who sought re-election as coroner; Llewellyn Scanlon, civil sheriff; Georgia Montgomery Jr., state tax collector; Francis J. Demarest, recorder of mortgages; Edward Boesch, register of conveyances; Nat Gros, clerk of the first city court, and Clyde F. Bel, constable of the first city court.

Charles E. Deichmann, candidate on the Brahney ticket, was an easy winner to fill the unexpired term in the state Senate from the Second Senatorial District, comprising the third ward.

Glen Clasen and Victor Schiro, members of the Commission Council, led eight rivals who sought the two positions as councilmen at large. Both had Morrison's endorsement. Clasen had a clear majority but Schiro faces a runoff for the other post against Mrs. Martha Robinson.

The seven candidates who trailed Morrison and Brahney in the mayor's race were Criminal Sheriff John Grosch who ran third with 11,308 votes; attorney Francis Williams, 1,827; restaurant owner Otis Guichet Sr., 488; Frank Dane, former fight promoter, 302; A. Roswell Thompson, businessman, 270; Anthony Joseph Scelambra, grocer, 208; and Joseph Pellerin, auto salesman, 193.

Temperature Drops Fast In Monroe

The C. A. A. here said, shortly before noon Wednesday temperatures in the Twin Cities will possibly drop to "near freezing" Wednesday night, but despite scattered clouds no rain is in sight.

According to the C. A. A., the temperature at midnight Tuesday was 65 degrees, at 6 a. m. Wednesday it was 53 degrees, and at 8:30 a. m. Wednesday it was 42 degrees, which was well below the 58 minimum for Tuesday.

However, at 11 a. m. the temperature had risen from the 42 degree reading to 44 degrees and would probably continue to rise until sometime during the afternoon. "After that it may drop to near freezing," a spokesman said.

Hit-And-Run Suspect Held On 3 Charges

A trail of water leading from the foot of the old traffic bridge to 203 Austin avenue, West Monroe, resulted late Tuesday in the arrest of a 21-year-old Brown paper mill employee on charges of reckless driving, hit and run, and causing property damage.

He is Sammie T. Foster of 203 Austin avenue, West Monroe, who was charged in connection with an alleged hit-and-run accident in Monroe about 10:20 p. m. Tuesday. He was booked at the Monroe police station an hour later.

According to police officers, the search for Foster got underway when Monroe Patrolman Jerry Cowart reported he had spotted a hit-and-run car heading toward West Monroe.

A pickup order was put out on the car but Monroe police missed him at the Monroe end of the old traffic bridge. West Monroe police, called in to aid the search, also missed him at the bridge but spotted a trail of water, apparently from the radiator, they said.

Having already learned from the Monroe department that the car was damaged in front, West Monroe Officers James Martin and Sam Antley followed the trail of water from the radiator to Foster's house, they said.

The damaged automobile was found in front of the house, and Foster was arrested. The West Monroe officers took Foster to St. Francis hospital, where he was examined by a physician and found to be uninjured. He was turned over to Monroe police.

In the meantime, officers said, George T. Sumler, Negro, 35, of 401 North 24th street, had reported his parked automobile was hit by Foster's car in the 100 block of Oak street in Monroe.

Sumler told officers an automobile answering the description of Foster's smashed into his car, backed up and left the scene.

Federal Trade Agency To Investigate Coffee Rise

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the Federal Trade Commission will make a full scale investigation of rising coffee prices. The President told a news conference the commission launched a preliminary inquiry Jan. 13 and already has discovered enough to warrant a full investigation.

Such an inquiry, he added, is going to take place.

Retail prices for coffee have lately jumped above $1 a pound and wholesalers have predicted a further rise.

The Trade Commission's investigation will be aimed at determining whether any laws have been violated.

The President said the FTC would look specifically into charges that domestic trading in coffee had been limited to certain types.

At his news conference, the President also:

1. Declared he is backing up the position of Secretary of State Dulles at the Be In Big Four conference. That was in reply to a request for comment on Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's demand for a big five parley, including Red China, on world problems. Dulles rejects that idea.

2. Said his associates at the Capitol tell him they still are hopeful a compromise on the controversial Bricker treaty-power amendment can be worked out.

3. Discussed the distinction, as he sees it, between the policies of his administration and the "New Deal" of the preceding Democratic administrations. He said his administration is politically liberal.

He added that his parents were "always gripping when I came home late from school."

Friends of the family at Sherburne said they believed a possible cause of the shooting spree was Wisnorski's jealousy of his honor student sister, Antoinette, 19, a freshman at the College of St. Catherine at St. Paul, Minn.

While the youth was at large Tuesday she was placed under police guard because a girl Wisnorski had dated said he once remarked he would "kill my sister, too," if he ever murdered his family, He

Initiative On Bricker Plan Goes To Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower appeared today to have the upper hand in his battle with Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) over a proposed change in treaty-making powers.

With Eisenhower facing further questions about his stand at a White House news conference, the controversy now centered in the Senate headed toward these possible outcomes:

1. Bricker could take the unlikely step of compromising or abandoning the heart of his proposed constitutional amendment—which says that "a treaty shall become effective as internal law in the United States only through legislation which would be valid in the absence of treaty."

2. The Senate could substitute for that clause by majority vote—which GOP leaders claimed they could muster—a provision acceptable to the President or an entirely new draft.

3. If Bricker and his followers refused to accept this action, their alternative would be to vote against the revised version on passage. That evidently would mean the needed two-thirds majority. It would thus be dead, and present constitutional provisions would remain intact, Bricker has

Urges Group To Bypass Red Proposal

Asserts World Wants Solution To Twin Issues

BERLIN (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles urged the Berlin Conference today to skip over action on Russia's proposal for a meeting with Communist China and come to grips immediately with the problems of German unification and European security.

Dulles declared the Soviet demand for a five-power conference including the Peiping government "is primarily a device to attempt to secure for that regime a position in the councils of the world which it has not earned or had accorded to it by the international community generally including the United Nations."

"Certainly," he emphatically declared, "this four-power conference is not the place to decide that matter."

Molotov had submitted to the conference's second session yesterday a formal resolution calling a five-power meeting in May or June. The United States had already rejected the whole concept. But it also had accepted, along

Polio Auction Nets $2,084 For March Of Dimes

A report from the polio auction held last night from the KNOE-TV studios and transmitted to all local radio stations and KFAZ-TV showed that approximately $2,084 had been collected for the annual 1954 March of Dimes drive.

Jerry Sugar, chairman of the auction, said that all merchandise was auctioned off Tuesday night and that only gift certificates remained. It had not been decided late today what would be done with the certificates.

A large crowd was on hand at 10 p. m. when the auction started. A survey showed that a majority of the bidders were persons outside the Twin Cities.

Many worthwhile and unusual articles were auctioned off, including in the unusual was a dog, airplane ride, pie splashing an individual, rabbits and others.

S. E. Holloway, chairman of MOH, expressed his appreciation to all the radio and TV stations for the generous use of their time in promoting the auctions and also to the people who bought the worthwhile cause.

He added in doing so benefited a Tuesday night's auction was the second to be held here this year for the annual campaign.

Police Arrest Killer Of Young Girl

LEVITTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A young neighbor whose wife is pregnant confessed to police last night that he shot and killed pretty 15-year-old Marta Gibbons because she "threatened to tell" that he raped her.

The partly nude, near-frozen body of the girl was discovered Monday near a lonely lakeshore lover's lane. Last night the arrest was made.

State Police Sgt. Adrian McCarr identified 22-year-old George Capps, a veteran of the Korean fighting, as the confessed killer. McCarr said Capps lured Marta from her home, where she was minding her 6-year-old sister last Friday night, drove her in his car to nearby Curtis Lake, and there raped her in the back seat after ripping off part of her clothing.

Then the policeman said in disclosing the confession, Capps brutally beat the girl and shot her as she tried to run away after threatening to tell her mother.

Capps was charged with murder and held without bond for a hearing Feb. 9.

Police said Capps actually lived in the north end of the town, but reported her home as Saturday.

Capps, an employee of a T. Eaton, N. J., was promised money, then lived across the street from the victim in this planned community of new homes, built on the edge of the Fairless works of the U. S. Steel Corp.

Capps and the slain girl knew each other only as roommates before Friday night, McCarr said.

Joe Saragusa To Head Heart Fund Campaign

The appointment of Joe Saragusa, local businessman, to head the 1954 Ouachita Parish Heart Fund campaign was announced Wednesday by M. D. Hargrove, president of the Louisiana Heart Association. The drive will be held during the month of February.

In accepting the chairmanship, Saragusa said "funds subscribed by the people of this community in the campaign will be used to fight the diseases of the heart and blood vessels and most of it will be spent on research right here in our Louisiana medical centers. Right now there are six major research projects under way in Louisiana, financed entirely by Heart Fund money. And all of them show great promise."

The heart fund campaign, whose theme is "Hope for Hearts" will get under way February 1 and continue throughout the month. Individuals and business firms will be asked to support research on diseases of heart and blood vessels. Saragusa said that because the Heart Fund Campaign goal is not a huge one—only $120,000 for the entire state of Louisiana—even a small gift will go a long way towards fighting heart disease.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . . .

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild over 50 years. Half an hour after this afternoon's meeting got under way, Assistant Secretary of State McCordie handed to reporters a text of the Dulles statement which re-emphasized the American position and declared "it would be wrong if, having come together for the first time in five years, we should fritter away our time in discussing whether and how to set up a new conference rather than in dealing with the substantive problems—Germany and Austria—which the world expects us to solve."

"The United States therefore proposes," Dulles said, "that we should take no action on the first agenda item—the five-power conference—and pass on to the second—Germany and European security—and third—Austrian independence."

Frame Building Damaged By Fire

Fire caused minor damage to a frame building at 2000 DeSiard street early Wednesday morning, but was extinguished before any major damage occurred. The fire was turned in to the Monroe fire department at 4:52 a. m.

Report to a young man by a young railroad

YOU aren't yet old enough to understand, but our work touches both your present and future. We hauled cotton for your diapers. Soon it will be roller skates, school books and candy for your girl. We did the same for your dad and his dad.

When they grew up, we hauled the coal they mined, the trees they felled, the crops they grew, the products they made in factories, the goods they sold in stores. We'll do these things for you some day.

A good railroad must stay young

We must keep youth's vigor and stamina by constant renewal . . . laying new rail . . . adding new cars and locomotives . . . building better yards. We put 22 million dollars into these things last year, 131 million in the past five years.

We must also help those we serve . . . bring new industries to Mid-America . . . help farmers renew worn soils, improve livestock, plant new tree crops. And constantly we must seek new answers to old problems. For encouraging employees to find better ways of doing things, we received the highest 1953 award for suggestion systems.

A new era of progress

Keeping young takes a whopping share of the money we earn. For no railroad is younger than its financial backbone. Last year we stripped away the final remnant of a complex batch of mortgages dating back almost a century. Now, with one Consolidated mortgage and a debt reduced by nearly half, the Illinois Central begins a new era of progress.

That's our story for every youngster in Mid-America. We want them to know we'll stay on the job, moving the wealth of Mid-America's farms and mines and factories. When they grow up, we'll be ready to work for them. Or, if they choose, they can work for us. Because there will be plenty of room for able young people on the young Main Line of Mid-America.

in dealing with individuals and conservative in dealing with economic and monetary matters.

A major difference can be cited, he added, simply by taking a look at the budget which he said shows his administration is reducing spending and that his predecessors went further and further into debt.

4. Asserted that Rep. Condon (R-Calif.) has every right to clear himself of charges of subversion. Condon last year was refused permission to view atomic tests because of information the Atomic Energy Commission said it had received about him. The congressman has denied that he is or ever has been a Communist or a sympathizer. He is being given a hearing by the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee.

5. Declared a measure of humanity will be employed by the Army in handling the case of Col. Edward S. Dickinson, the American former prisoner of war who first chose to remain with the Communists and then elected to return home. The Army has started court martial proceedings against Dickinson on the ground that he had unlawful dealings with the enemy. The President said, too, he is certain the armed forces will use sympathy in dealing with Americans who confessed under duress to engaging in germ warfare. The Marine Corps has ordered an inquiry into the case of Col. Frank H. Schwabe, Marine flier who while a prisoner signed a germ warfare confession which he renounced when released.

6. Tagged as an idea worth looking into a reporter's suggestion that the administration adopt a method of giving something like honorable discharges to those who resign from the government without any suspicion that they might be security risks.

The reporter was Sarah McClelland, who represents a group of Texas papers. She suggested that a system similar to the Army's be adopted so that there could be some indication whether the civilian discharges were honorable or dishonorable.

7. Declared with a trace of irritation that his new farm program, calling for a system of flexible price supports eventually, represents no basic change in his thinking. He added that he never promised during the presidential campaign to maintain price supports at a rigid 90 per cent of parity beyond the end of this year.

8. Said he probably will send Congress a special message dealing with his recommendations on foreign trade. Those recommendations will be based, he said, in part on a report by his special study commission and in part on an analysis of that study now being made by various government agencies.

The President announced that Clarence Randall, who was chairman of the Foreign Trade Study Commission, is being retained as a White House consultant.

9. Said the administration abandoned plans to renew its call for a freeze of the 1 1/2 per cent social security payroll tax, because the 2 per cent rate now in effect will be needed to finance the expanded insurance program the administration advocates. The proposed expansion would bring an additional 10 million Americans under social security.

10. Declined comment on the latest talk between Secretary of State Dulles and Soviet Ambassador Zorubín on Eisenhower's proposal for creation of an international atomic pool for peaceful purposes. The President said he didn't know when there would be a report on that matter.

11. Commenting on the proposal of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Norwalk, Conn., to send to the FBI the names of residents of that city deemed "Communist," said probably nothing can be done to stop such a program. But he added that there are libel and slander laws to take care of the situation if unwarranted accusations should be made.

School of Home Economics, 10. As is the usual custom at Tech, no baccalaureate sermon was scheduled in connection with the mid-year graduation activities.

Air Armada To Hunt For Jelke

GULFPORT, Miss., Jan. 27—UP—An air armada planned to broaden its search after fog lifted Wednesday for John Faris Jelke III, socialite oled heir who disappeared Monday night on a flight along the Gulf Coast.

Fog delayed the morning flights of most of the search planes called in from four states to hunt for Jelke's missing Air National Guard F-51 fighter.

Jelke, member of a cafe society set and heir to a $3 million Chicago fortune, disappeared after passing Mobile, Ala., on a flight from a National Guard base at White Plains, N.Y., to New Orleans.

The handsome, wavy-haired National Guard first lieutenant is the brother of Minor (Mickey) Jelke, mander of the Mississippi CAP, who was convicted on a pandering charge in connection with the operations of a vice ring in New York.

The Air Force conducted a search of the 100-mile coastline between Mobile and New Orleans, part of it populous with resort centers and part almost inaccessible swamps.

Joining in the hunt were Civil Air Patrol planes from Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Air Force planes from Alabama and Texas, and Coast Guard air-sea rescue planes.

The Air Force said 70 per cent of Jelke's possible route was covered Tuesday in a search that was hampered by fog and low ceiling.

Col. Warren Reimers, wing commander of the Mississippi CAP, said Jelke made his final radio contact while over Mobile at 7:08 p.m., est. Monday after taking off from Dobbins Air Force Base near Atlanta.

His most direct air route lay partly across the Gulf of Mexico, and authorities expressed unofficially a fear that his plane might have crashed into the water during bad weather Monday night.

Grass Roots Versus The 'National'

In these days of vital decisions concerning foreign and domestic policies, when the citizens of this nation should be heard individually or in local groups, there is a new sort of thinking going around which dictates that "national has spoken."

It appears that "national" knows best on all issues although, they are humans the same as you and subject to the same likes and dislikes. Consider this "national" phenomena in its more dangerous forms. In the first place, the national organizations generally have offices in one of the larger eastern cities. They are quite remote from the thinking of the individual clubs as it is seldom that these local organizations or clubs are heard from. Yet, a small group, sometimes fewer than the number of fingers on the hands can, by one statement, sway opinion by leading the American people to believe that because "national" has spoken, the entire organization has spoken.

Nothing can be further from the truth, and if American organization members go on permitting their "nationals" to speak for them sometimes voicing opinions just the opposite of their own and sometimes dangerous ones, this nation will indeed have progressed far down the road to centralization.

In days gone by, unless a policy was set by a vote of the entire national organization, there was no statement. At that time, a national club president would not have dared make a statement supposedly speaking for an entire organization. Recently, the Kiwanis International sent its local a note saying that in the opinion of the national headquarters, the Bricker proposal was "a sound one." However, it was not until a majority of the local clubs had voiced an opinion, that the Kiwanis International actually made a definite statement one way or the other.

It is a widely recognized fact that the Communists know and appreciate the value of propaganda better perhaps than most people. Therefore, they endeavor to insert people with their line of collectivist thought into the church organizations, into national club headquarters and into business groups. Through their adroit penetration of the American government (for instance) the Communists spoke and made decisions of a dangerous and lasting nature in the name of the entire American people.

One of the main reasons for the success of the centralization and the trend which dictates that "national should do it," is the sleepiness on the part of the people who should be awake and not permit the national organization leaders to speak for the entire group without first holding a vote of all the local groups.

There are numerous examples of this: All over the nation today, decisions are made for and in the name of people who know not what they are voting about. "National headquarters" realizes that its words will go a long way towards bringing about the things it desires such is the extent of the slumbering American people.

You are still sovereign Americans, left wingers, the Communists, the Socialists, the government planners and the internationalists to the contrary.

However, the latter mentioned, will eventually remove that title from your head if you don't soon wake up and stop permitting the "other fellow to do it." Don't leave important decisions to those who would use your good name to further their own beliefs, wishes and desires.

To do so endangers your position and is not in accord with the concepts of a democratic people.

Hear Of The Matter

Republicans are deeply engaged in devising a farm program which it is hoped Congress will accept, and Secretary of Agriculture Benson drives to the heart of the problem in saying that any program which doesn't aim at elimination of present surpluses is worthless.

Any analysis of the situation makes it plain that continuing surplus accumulation will shrink crop acreage and other units of production and result in more and more government controls. Shortages, defeat and depression are at the end of that road.

The aim must be to find markets for full production. This necessitate shifting from one crop to another as some crops enter over-production phases, but emphasis should be on crops instead of idle acres. As Secretary Benson points out, people who earn all or part of their living through processing, transporting, merchandising and otherwise servicing the output of farms outnumber the farmers.

More markets to support production is the goal which those attacking the farm problem are striving to reach.

Lung Cancer Research

At a time when the public is alarmed by assertion that there is a connection between heavy cigarette smoking and lung cancer, New York state seems about to seek an official determination whether there is a cause-and-effect relationship. Governor Dewey has no misgivings about the willingness of the legislature to provide $2,000,000 for cancer research.

This will be conducted at the Roswell Park Memorial Institute, Buffalo, where an $8,000,000 cancer hospital to be equipped with 500 beds is being built. Deaths in the state from tuberculosis since 1940, outside of New York City, have dropped from 33.7 per 100,000 population to nine. But the death rate for men from lung cancer in the last 20 years has jumped from 4.7 to 22.8 per 100,000 population.

Members of the American College of Surgeons were told in October that there was "strong evidence," short of absolute proof, that cigarette smoking caused lung cancer.

Here's How I See It

By Henry McLemore

Book Of Etiquette

Every time I read a book of etiquette (and for some reason people are always sending them to me) I realize all over again that if I am not a boor, I come so close to being one that one more failure to tip my hat and I'll belong out in the back yard with the chickens.

I was skimming through a recent book that came to me in the mail and it made me doubly appreciative of the tolerance of those who have played games with me, ridden with me on ships and trains, asked me to dinner, or been a guest in my home.

Let us consider the wardrobe the book says is essential for a man on a cruise, and what I usually traipse around deck in. The book calls for among other things, knicker suit, two pairs of kid gloves, one pair of chamois gloves, sun helmet, muffler, folding umbrella, underwear (thin for tropics), and a masquerade costume.

That means that save for the thin underwear I have been affronting my shipmates for years. It's a wonder they didn't jump ship at the first port of call.

If the book's Do's and Don't's of sports are correct, then it's a wonder that solitary isn't the only game in which I can dig up a partner. It says to be modest in victory, which makes my jumping up and down and shouting completely out of order. Also always be willing to concede a point, and not make an issue of a debatable matter. That means I've been a cad every time I have walked off a golf course when my opponents insisted I have taken a 12 when I was pretty sure I hadn't hit the ball but eleven times.

I have broken more etiquette rules for train travel than there are baggage cars ahead. I didn't know it was wrong to push your way into a train in order to get a good seat. Just how would you go about getting a good seat if you didn't? Climb through a window? I invariably turn a seat over to put my luggage or feet on, and never has had to watch me eat the book indicates this is as bad as opening a window without asking permission of any passengers the wind might bother. I must have given a million people colds in my day.

I hate to think of what people who have asked me to dinner must say not to use both hands and ners. The book frowns out loud on surveying a dish when it is passed to you as if looking for the choicest morsel. It says to take the portion nearest to you. All I can say is that the author wasn't raised with two brothers and two sisters, all of whom were choice morsels and friends. Impoliteness is bad, but eating necks all your life is worse.

It is a good thing the author ate.

Communist Fortress In Latin America

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic, Jan. 26. This nation is a fortress against communism in Latin America and, thus, inevitably it has been the butt of a great deal of scurrility of a standard type. The head man, Rafael L. Trujillo, always called the generalissimo and benefactor of the republic, has been depicted as a bloody-handed dictator and the marvelous reforms which he has wrought since 1930 are minimized as mere "material" gains. Nevertheless, Trujillo has accomplished miracles which are the greater in the light of the fact that our government, under Roosevelt and Truman, harassed him all the time.

I had a visit with Trujillo a few days ago in his office in the magnificent capitol which he built and he plainly showed his hatred of the Americans in the White House and State Department who tried to help his enemies. I mentioned Eleanor Roosevelt and he shared my opinion, but the two individuals who are hated most are Spruille Braden and Ellis O. Briggs, who were ambassadors here before Eisenhower was elected.

The republic occupies about two-thirds of the island of Hispaniola. The other third, which is Haiti, lies to the west and is markedly "backward" by comparison. They were about alike until Trujillo came along and, like Mussolini, began hustling all over always in a thundering rush and accompanied by plenty of music, again like Mussolini, but also like Roosevelt and Truman, too, if you remember, he stood a fair chance of being potted had he not taken precautions.

Trujillo has built schools, waterworks, sewers and hospitals, a big university, and thousands of small houses for the workers, many of which I have seen, and brought in peace and order. You take a chance of being knifed or garroted on the streets and in the parks and subways of New York and the streets are a filthy disgrace, but there is almost no crime here and you could eat your lunch off any street in town.

The people, too, are clean and laundered. There is a spirit and appearance of happiness and friendliness unlike any that I have ever seen anywhere else and to a North American, the absolute indifference to color is a charming surprise. After a few days, I reflected that I was surprised at myself for being surprised because it would be so easy for us to cure our own situation, given the same mutual cooperation and good will.

The Communists tried to have it that the explosion along the Haitian border in 1937 in which an uncertain number of jungle types were killed and hacked up was a race war of the dominican nation against Haitian descendants of African slaves. But there are as many Negro dominicans as whites and they get along without the slightest appearance of self-consciousness.

I have had a Negro driver named Domingo for the last couple of weeks, and he has seemed puzzled by my questions about just how this has never occurred in his experience.

A few nights ago I went to a reception for the generalissimo by the new ambassador from Argentina, General Martini, and there were, I should say, at least a dozen Negro army officers and their wives mingling with the other brass and the prelaty, who included the archbishop of Santo Domingo, the bishop of the Antilles, Richard Pini. He is an aged gentleman and scholar and is stone blind now just from the wear and tear of life and reading. Own own new ambassador William Pfeiffer, had occasion to call on him soon after he checked in and after a little habla he was calling Pfeiffer Bill and invited Pfeiffer to call him Dick. When I was fixing to go at the end of my visit he cautioned me to be careful on the winding coral stairs in the ancient cathedral. I said never mind me, I could see, but couldn't guide him back to his personal quarters. He said no, he had eyes in his fingers.

The gala by the Argentine ambassador was something out of the old courts of Paris and Vienna. The party was given at a night club called Vox Dominicana where they deal cards and roulette in a casino off the main room. The main table was as long as a bowling alley and was covered by a lace cloth which an authority tells me was something very elite. Trujillo and his brother, who is now president of the republic, Trujillo's son, who is a general, and numerous other members of the family were up and down the board and I hadn't seen so much gold braid and stuff since the lying in state of George V. But, why shouldn't they put on some duds? They have a flair for it and the court of St. James is no more authentic than this one.

Flor Trujillo was there too, a very vivacious young woman who was one of the wives of Porfirio Rubirosa, the spectacular international steward who did a short hitch as husband to Doris Duke and is now tied up with Barbara Hutton. Flor gets around very informally and I met her again at dinner at the home of some American kids and still another time at the Brazilian ambassador's home. This statesman's name is Paulo G. Hasslocher and he is a walking compendium of statistics. He fizzes like a seedling powder but he knows how many automobiles there are in Honduras, the annual wage of the laboring class in Brazil and Pennsylvania, and the mean average rainfall of Minnesota where he used to spend vacations fishing around Virginia in the iron country.

He came up to my table where I was sitting in my trunk by the pool and told me who he was and said he knew a lot of American newspaper men in Washington. He started to name them — "Drew Pearson."

I said: "He is a louse!" The ambassador said, "Yes, and I know Walter Trohan, Lyle Wilson and Bill Hutch. I know Arthur Krock, too."

So he said come on out to his house for a drink tomorrow so I did and he had a dozen cases of Mummie stacked in the hall and insisted on giving me a bottle and another of very refined Scotch as well. Mrs. Hasslocher is a very pretty blonde from Newark. She sings. The French ambassador was there and last night saw him again in the casino of the Jarama Hotel, going against the wheel. Our embassy is very deluxe. It has not only an office building but a beautiful mansion with a swimming pool and a lot of land. We did have more but sold some to Trujillo for the generalissimo's palace.

There is a small marine guard attached to the embassy but they go in multi because the uniform might poke up memories of the occupation which all hands want to forget. Trujillo has made this swanky world capital in the diplomatic sense with all these embassies and it does something good to the national and popular morale, you can be sure, because most of the people can remember when this town was a dirty old Spanish-Indian-Negro settlement on a ragged coral shore and they caught water in cisterns from their roofs and drank mosquitos and larvae with it.

Flor Trujillo was there too, a legged career employees who have grown up in government under 20 years of New and Fair Deal administrations.

President Eisenhower was elected by voters who had tired of the socialist path down which the Democrats had been taking the country—a long way down. The voters chose him because they felt he would take us back toward the free enterprise system which made the United States the greatest, most prosperous nation in the world.

Unquestionably, the Eisenhower Administration has been trying to do just that—to restore free enterprise. But it has made the task doubly difficult for itself by adhering to the Philip Young view that only the very top echelon jobs should be filled with Republicans, that Truman Administration holdovers are fully capable of administering basic policy as set by cabinet members and agency directors.

The latter premise simply is not true. A government employee who for years has operated on the theory that big government is desirable and that the government's power tentacles should be inched outward wherever possible, cannot completely change his thinking overnight and conscientiously seek

The Yalta Betrayal

By Felix Wittmer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The News-Star is printing in serial form, "The Yalta Betrayal" by Dr. Felix Wittmer. Dr. Wittmer, in his book, brings out facts concerning the Yalta episode which have never been brought to the public eye. For his efforts, his book has received few if any reviews and there has been a determined effort to keep it from the public. "The Yalta Betrayal" is a dramatic history of an American catastrophe.)

The Exultant Mood

Sherwood reports that "The mood of the American delegates, including Roosevelt and Hopkins, could be described as one of supreme exultation as they left Yalta." How supreme and exultant, does he think, was the mood of Roumania's venerable peasant leader, Dr. Iuliu Maniu, when, as a result of our betrayal, he vanished into a Communist jail? Or of the resistance hero, General Mihailovich, when he was executed at the behest of our intermittent friend, Marshal Tito? Or of Jan Masaryk, when he perished by way of strangulation? Or of Cardinal Mindszenty, when, in rather prolonged sessions, his chemical components were readjusted to the pattern of a more useful citizen of a "people's democracy"?

How could a great nation like America, which sacrificed so much in every corner of the globe, be guided into such abject surrender and such a hollow travesty of "global unity"?

At home in America, Freda Kirchwey, in the Nation of February 17, 1945 (p. 169), raved that "the communists issued jointly at the close of the conference is a most impressive list of achievements." Considering Miss Kirchwey's impressive list of Communist fronting it is likely that she has been impressed to this very day.

Yet even the New Republic, whose editors, Bruce Bliven, George Soule, Michael Straight, and Stark Young, were not known for vigorous opposition to the Communist encroachment, in its issue of February 19 (p. 243) admitted that "on the whole, the results at Yalta represented a substantial victory for Stalin."

The New Yorker's trusted "progressive" mouthpiece, Howard Brubaker, in the issue of February 24 (p. 39), referred to the Crimea Conference as "a brilliant success" which "delighted the liberty-loving world." Had Mr. Brubaker forgotten Lubianka prison and the sickening executions of even Stalin's closest comrades? Would he regard the slaughter of tens of thousands of decent Balts as "a brilliant success"? Where was the omniscient commentator's foresight? Where his imagination? Was he then about to envisage the orgies of pillage, rape, and murder which the Communist hordes would stage among those European bourgeois who believed that the property which they had acquired by industry and thrift was their own? Could the cleverest not foresee the not exactly delightful mock trials which Tzola Dragolcheva's black widow squads were going to stage all over unhappy Bulgaria?

But Mr. Brubaker had always been eager to express in crisp and fashionable phrases what was held to be bon ton in the smarter circles of literary New Yorkers. It may therefore be considered as quite likely that the mouthpiece "hit the spot." Yalta, in the eyes of New York's intellectual vanguard, was "it." If old Europe and China lay prostrate before the "new people's democracy," so much the better.

In exactly the same vein, one page further in exactly the same issue of the New Yorker, Mollie Panter-Downes reported from London that "people here . . . appeared to be especially pleased by the announcement that the headquarters of the reparations commission were in Moscow." Who were these "people" whom the London reporter had interviewed? How would these "people" have cherished the idea of doing a stretch of reparations labor somewhere in the mines of the Ural Mountains? And were our sophisticated New Yorkers really pleased to learn that a war which was meant for liberty had opened the gates to tyranny? But "exultation" reigned from Roosevelt, the cheerful giver, down to the most perverted literary wretch of New York's vanguard aristocracy.

Mr. Roosevelt's feverish exultation, nevertheless, must have been of a somewhat artificial variety. Did he put on a show for the world? Or for America? Or for some of the people he knew who could not help raising their eyebrows at Yalta? Or perhaps for his own self, to quiet unpleasant doubts which made him lie awake before it was time to get up?

Innate Shrewdness

NEW YORK — Log of a Thought Peddler: I'm always impressed by the chronicles of innate shrewdness exhibited early in life by those who later became financial geniuses. Like one I just read about John D. Rockefeller, the elder. As a small boy he stood watching a traveling patent medicine salesman making a pitch by the town square one day. To draw a crowd the salesman started auctioning off silver dollars but without success. Suddenly, he cried: "A bid! Won't someone make a bid? Even a nickel."

The small John D. stepped forward. "I'll bid a nickel."

"The dollar is yours, son. Hand up your nickel."

The lad shook his head. "Just take it out of the dollar, and give me 95 cents change."

The pitchman did and, red-faced, folded up shop and decamped to the titters of the crowd.

I'm also mildly awed by those clever folk who conceive neat methods of putting their knowledge to work in little ways in everyday life. Like the golfer of scientific bent who has the atomic age working for him in finding lost golf balls.

Factory Management reports it, this case of an engineer to curtail government and its power.

There have been indications in recent weeks that Young is coming to a realization of the truism, albeit reluctantly. Concrete evidence of this change is slow in developing, however, and the number of holdovers being replaced by new faces in top jobs still is painfully small.

As a result of long argument and suasion by a group of senators and their administrative assistants, representing all factions of the Republican Party, the White House some weeks ago agreed that special assistants for personnel would be brought in by all department and agency chiefs.

Putting this program into effect has been a slow process, however, and thus far not more than half a dozen such officials have been installed. Even those few are encountering difficulty because their superiors have been so deeply imbued with the theory of retaining careerists wherever possible. Furthermore, several of the biggest departments have not taken any steps at all toward effectuating the program.

The sooner the Eisenhower Administration comes to grips squarely with this problem, the better off it will be. And even now, it may be too late to have any beneficial effect on this fall's congressional elections.

Policy-Making Jobs

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 — Next week's meeting of the Republican National Committee is expected to be a sounding board for demands for the scalp of Philip Young, pedantic chairman of the Civil Service Commission.

Young generally is credited with being responsible, more than any other single individual, for the Eisenhower Administration's refusal to this point to face up squarely to the necessity for getting into top management and policy-making jobs throughout the government persons whose thinking is in sympathy with its aims.

The national committee sessions, to be held here on February 5 and 6, are expected to resound with carping complaints about the lack of patronage jobs for the party faithful. That, however, is strictly a matter of politics which would be of little concern if the federal civil service system was as meritorious as it is supposed to be. The question of filling top jobs is something else again. It is a basic component of our two-party system and its vital tenet that responsibility for the operation of government must rest on the party in power. It is on the basis of the manner in which that responsibility is exercised that the voters decide whether they want to retain that party in power or replace it with the other party.

The Republican Party cannot properly exercise its responsibility for government operations when scores, even hundreds, of key jobs are filled by Democrats, by alien

Shivers Meets Texas Press

AUSTIN, Jan. 27—UP—Gov. Allan Shivers Tuesday night endorsed doing "about anything we are big enough to do—and I think we are big enough to do a lot" to Communists.

"We're going to crush them under our heel every way we can," the governor said in a nationwide broadcast on the Facts Forum program.

Shivers last week lumped Communists and traitors in the same category, and asked if death was the punishment for treason, why not for convicted Communist?

He endorsed President Eisenhower's recent proposal that convicted Communists be barred from citizenship.

"I'm in favor of doing anything we can to a Communist if we can catch him—and I think we can," he said.

The governor has announced he will call a special session of the legislature, probably in mid-March, and expressed hope that lawmakers would give consideration at time to tightening Communist control laws.

In response to questions by E. L. (Dick) Wall and W. H. Gardner, capitol correspondents for the Houston Chronicle and Houston Post, respectively, the governor touched briefly on several subjects.

He opposed increased federal aid to education in Texas.

"I don't want our school system run from Washington. We don't want it (federal aid) and we don't need it," he said.

The governor expressed approval of most Eisenhower administration actions, but criticized the farm program.

"I'm not happy with the way it is being administered now. I'm not happy with what is proposed," he added.

He said farmers and ranchers "cannot exist today in a half-controlled and half-free market."

"I don't think anything we are doing is helping very much."

The farm issue, he said, "is our prime domestic problem." One that "can and must" be solved.

"America is big enough to do it," he added.

The governor endorsed Mr. Eisenhower's proposal that the legal voting age be lowered to 18.

"I think a boy of 18 today is a lot more mature than a young man of 21 was a few years ago. I can't say that those above 21 have cut any great pattern," he added.

Shivers endorsed the Bricker Amendment, a proposed constitutional change that would place new limitations on treaty-making powers of the President.

He expressed belief the principle of the proposal "is fine," but suggested there is probably a need for changes in the mechanics of the amendment.

"We shouldn't let constitutional government be overridden by executive orders and sometimes conversation—such as at Yalta," he said. "If we can throw any safeguards around constitutional government, we ought to do it."

FERRIDAY, Jan. 27 (Special)—

Dr. A. J. Reynolds, medical director of the Tensas Parish health unit, announces that the blood testing survey designed to reach the Negro population of the parish is being conducted in Tensas Parish. The survey started Monday and will continue through February.

Dr. Reynolds said that although the incidence rate of venereal disease has been reduced 60 per cent in the last few years due to penicillin therapy and intensive case finding activities, the percentage of Louisiana citizens infected with syphilis or other venereal diseases continues to be among the highest of any of the 48 states, according to the United States public health service.

In December 1952 approximately 16,000 Louisiana civilian cases of venereal diseases were reported to the state health department for the first time. Of these about 8,000 had syphilis. It is estimated that these cases represented only a fraction of the cases actually existing in the state, perhaps no more than 25 per cent and certainly not more than 50 per cent. Plantations and several schools will be tested and evening educational programs will be presented in various churches and schools throughout the parish.

Persons found infected are urged to go to their family doctor or if they are unable to pay may receive treatment at the parish health unit center in St. Joseph.

Kilpatrick Will Head Red Cross Drive In Jackson

JONESBORO, Jan. 27 (Special)—

W. H. Kilpatrick, Ford dealer of Jonesboro, has accepted the chairmanship of the Jackson Parish Red Cross drive to begin March 1. A regional meeting of the American Red Cross will be held in Jonesboro at the educational building of the Methodist Church Thursday from 9 to 12 a.m.

Guest speakers will be Dr. Dowling of the area office in Atlanta, Ga., and Mr. Loeper of Shreveport, who is serving as vice chairman of the national fund raising committee. They will hold an open forum for the discussion of problems arising in this locality.

School Supervisors To Meet In Ruston

RUSTON, Jan. 27 (Special)—

School supervisors from every Louisiana parish are invited to attend a three-day work conference of the Louisiana School Supervisors' association to be held at Louisiana Tech Wednesday through Friday of this week.

The meetings will be held in the dramatic arts building on the Tech campus.

Among the principal speakers will be Dr. Kimball Wiles, who is a member of the faculty of the College of Education at the University of Florida. Dr. Wiles will talk on "A Closer Look at Supervision" on Wednesday morning. He will be followed in a talk by Shelby M. Jackson, state superintendent of education.

In a Thursday morning session, A. E. Robinson, Baton Rouge, director of the division of vocational education and special services, will talk on "Supervision's Responsibility for Exceptional Children."

Dr. Wiles will return on Friday to address the final session.

"Supervision for Better Instruction" will be the theme of the meeting. The state department of education and Louisiana Tech are cooperating with the supervisors' organization in planning the program.

Freberg Recording Makes Big Hit In Great Britain

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—You may never have suspected, but Stan Freberg's lampooning record, "St. George and the Dragonet," is a hit in England.

This was one of the bits of information I gleaned from Robert Weiss, a former Hollywood press agent who is now Capitol Records' ambassador of good will and good business in Europe. Here to report to the home base, he told me that the American music is extremely popular in free Europe and even gets a play behind the Iron Curtain.

"Of course, the English have never seen or heard Dragonet on TV," said Weiss, "so we weren't sure whether 'St. George and the Dragonet' would be well received. But it has been a big success. It's partly because St. George is a national hero over there."

"What's more, Ray Anthony's straight version of the Dragonet theme has been a big hit in Sweden. They like its style."

Weiss, who tours Europe from his base in Paris, gave me a country-by-country rundown on national tastes in music:

Sweden—They like American favorites such as Stan Kenton, Les Paul, Mary Ford, King Cole and Ray Anthony. They also go for "cool jazz" like Jerry Mulligan's.

Norway—In a cooler country, they are slightly more reserved in their music tastes.

Denmark—They prefer gay, carefree, melodic music of such performers as King Cole, Les Paul, Mary Ford, Giselle McKenzie.

West Germany—Having listened to the American armed forces radio network, they have developed a taste for hillbilly and Western music, which they find similar to their Bavarian style. Tex Ritter and Hank Thompson are favorites. The Germans are the top jazz fans of Europe and like rhythmic, bright melodies played at fast tempos. Exception: "Vaya Con Dios," a big hit.

Holland and Belgium—Their tastes are almost exactly the same as in America. Special favorite: Kay Starr.

England—They buy more records by American performers than by English. Al Martino, Dean Martin, June Hutton, Paul Ford, King Cole, Anthony and Billy May are well received.

France—There are two strong factions: those who are devoted to Dixieland and those who love strong ballads. Stan Kenton was a big success there in a personal appearance.

Italy—Melody is strong here, not jazz. Frank Sinatra, Cole and Paul Ford are big favorites. Also liked: tangos, samba, mambo.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

B. SUE SHARMAN

"Be Your Age" began complete run-throughs of the play this week, when Helen Bird and Herbert "Grandpa" Nobles, who provide the surprise ending to the comedy, joined the cast. They were privileged to sit out the early rehearsals of the play.

One week from this Thursday evening the hilarious comedy will open for a week's engagement at the Selman Field Playhouse. This promises to be one of the most popular plays of the season, so start thinking about those reservations, now.

Random Notes . . . Among the Monroians who attended the Little Theatre in Ruston on Tuesday afternoon, were Mrs. Dick Troy, Herbert and Mrs. Nobles and director Thom Feuerstein. They all reported it as just wonderful. . . . Director Feuerstein was delighted to find a long-lost friend in the ballet, Eugene Tanner, who has been with the dancing group for about a year and a half. . . . Albert Horuff, who was a patient at the Wright-Bendel clinic for the past two weeks, is now convalescing at his home on Lee Ave. His many friends will be glad when he is up and about again. . . . Little Theatre patron member Emma Lou "Skipper" Perkins left today for another one of her interesting trips. "Skipper" was joined by a friend from Ruston, La. and they will motor to Tulsa, Okla. for a visit of 8 or 10 days, during which time they plan to fly to Washington, D. C.

Little Theatre Sketch

Genny Butz . . . who is making her first stage appearance as Lois Holly in "Be Your Age," is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Butz. The attractive young lady attended schools in Columbus, Miss., Shreveport and New Orleans, La., and Goldsboro and Charlotte, N. C. before coming to Monroe two years ago.

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Mrs. Landers: We have been married for three years and have a son 15 months old; my husband is 29 and I am 19. I had a past before I married and like a stupid fool who thought she was doing the right thing, I told my husband. Ever since, we have arguments several times a month which end up with my husband pouting and not talking until I baby him into it. With every argument I hear the same thing over and over again, like a record, about my past. My husband also goes crying to his mother who lives in the same building (which, she owns). Don't you think that it is time to give up, since nothing has changed after three years? Sometimes it feels more like 50 years! —Hands of Time

Only three years? Why, that isn't even a fair start. What did you expect, paradise with never a cross word or look from "Prince Charming"? You have to give yourself many more years to iron out all the kinks... particularly the big snarl you threw in with your uncalculated true "confession." What's an argument several times a month between a husband and wife? If they occurred every day, then you might have a legitimate kick. Do you think other couples don't have them? No marriage runs smoothly. You probably made the common mistake of expecting too much of marriage; expecting to "live happily ever after." Well, it just doesn't work that way. You and your husband are two human beings with definite likes, dislikes, personalities

Stop Taking Harsh Drugs for Constipation

Avoid Intestinal Upset! Get Relief This Gentle Vegetable Laxative Way!

For constipation, never take harsh drugs. They cause brutal cramps and griping, disrupt normal bowel action, make repeated doses seem necessary.

When you are temporarily constipated, get sure but gentle relief—without salts, without harsh drugs. Take Dr. Caldwell's Senna Laxative contained in Syrup Pepsin. The extract of Senna in Dr. Caldwell's is one of the finest natural laxatives known to medicine.

Dr. Caldwell's Senna Laxative tastes good, gives gentle, comfortable, satisfying relief of temporary constipation for every member of the family. Helps you get "on schedule" without repeated doses. Even relieves stomach sourness that constipation often brings.

Buy Dr. Caldwell's. Money back if not satisfied. Mail bottle to Box 280, New York 16, N. Y.

and rights. When you recognize those things and stop expecting so much of one another, you'll begin to pull together instead of apart. You have a baby to think about; he needs both of you. You have no right to think of "giving up." Give your husband more time to grow up emotionally, try to move out of his mother's building, have a showdown about leaving "your past" out of the arguments and hang on. You'll end up with a "successful" marriage.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a widow in my middle 40s and have been going with a man of the same age for the past 10 months. I know he thinks a lot of me, as I do of him. A few months ago he mentioned marriage but has not since. We still see one another, even more frequently. Do you think it would be proper for me to bring up the subject again? It would be difficult for me to do so; however, neither of us is a kid. Please advise me.—Lonesome

What have you got to lose by saying nothing. At your age you have a man dating you steadily... m-m-m sister! do you know what you have? Added to that, he is a man who has mentioned marriage. Even though the act has since paralyzed him, you know he has it in mind. Play it safe and say nothing. Keep enjoying his company and allowing him to enjoy... and get used to... yours. Smells like orange blossoms to me!

Dear Mrs. Landers: What do you think about a girl who writes "mushy" letters to a boy in Korea whom she has never seen? My sister's boy friend asked me to write to this boy, which I did. Soon, his letters became very serious and I followed suit. He sent me his Marine ring and wants us to marry when he comes home this summer. It will be the first time I have seen him. Kindly advise me what to do.—Puzzled

If it is any comfort to you, you are one of many who did the same thing. Just let us not make the mistake of marrying the boy without dating him for at least a year under normal circumstances. Both you and he have built up images in your respective minds as to what the other looks like and what and how he (and she) really is. You have built the figures to be what you want them to be. They will have no bad points but a million good, but impossible, points. Give yourselves time, and plenty of it, to see one another as you really are before you say, "I will," or, "I do!"

R. R.: Yes, I know you are sincere in wanting to help your friend, but this is something that only he can work out. Any "help" from you would be interference.

C. P. G.: A good doctor and a psychiatrist can help him... if he wants the help.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of the News-Star.)

Different Views On Bricker Plan Held By La. Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Louisiana's senators hold different views of the controversial Bricker amendment.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.), the state's senior senator, is a co-sponsor of the amendment and is supporting it.

Sen. Long (D-La.) hasn't committed himself definitely but said today that while the objective of the sponsors is good "I find the so-called 'which' clause of the amendment very objectionable."

"The amendment may be all right, exclusive of the 'which' clause," he said, "but I reserve judgment on it."

The Bricker amendment is aimed at amending the constitution so as to limit the President's treaty-making powers.

The "which" clause in the amendment states that a treaty can become effective as internal law only through legislation which would be valid in the absence of the treaty.

It is around this clause that much of the debate over the amendment swirls.

"A person almost has to be an experienced diplomat, lawyer and legislator to understand the amendment," Long said.

He said "a very fine argument can be made by supporters of the amendment for its aim" but that whether the amendment itself would accomplish the aim needs "much study."

3 Aces May Miss NCAA Play; Rupp Takes News Hard

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 27 (AP)—Coach Adolph Rupp's fond dream of winning the NCAA basketball championship with his present great Kentucky team appeared dashed Tuesday when it was learned that his three top players almost certainly will be ineligible for the tournament.

Athletic Director Bernie Shively of Kentucky confirmed that six-foot-five Lou Tsioropoulos of Lynn, Mass., definitely will not be able to play in the NCAA event because he received his bachelor's degree last August.

The two other players, 1952 All-American Cliff Hagan of Owensboro, Ky., and Frank Ramsey of Madisonville, Ky., are due to complete their requirements for a degree at the close of the present term, which is now in its final examination stage.

"If they pass their current work, they too will be ineligible, and we certainly have no intention of asking them to retard their work in order to avoid such a situation," Shively said.

Hagan and Ramsey are known to be good students, averaging "B" or better in most of their subjects at the University.

Under NCAA rules, a player is not eligible for the post-season tournament if he has completed sufficient work for a degree.

Southeastern Conference rules permit players to compete in varsity sports, provided they have completed no more than four years of athletics within a five-year period.

Rupp, who was especially anxious to win the NCAA championship this year after his Wildcats had been suspended from competition last year for violation of recruiting rules, took the news hard.

"Eligibility is not my department," he commented tersely. "All I do is sign the eligibility slips after others have checked them."

Before the start of this season, Rupp was quoted as saying, "I will not quit until the man who said we could not play in the NCAA personally hands me the trophy for the NCAA championship."

Led by six-foot-four Hagan, six-foot-three Ramsey and Tsioropoulos, Kentucky has breezed to 12 straight victories this season and currently is ranked No. 1 nationally.

Rayville Awards 22 Gridders With New Monograms

RAYVILLE, La., Jan. 27 (Special)—"Yellow jackets dress the boys" became a familiar expression on the campus of Rayville High School this week as 22 football lettermen appeared sporting their new jackets that proclaimed the school as members of the 1953 North Louisiana State championship team. Rayville lost out to West Lake in the state title game.

The new gold jackets have a gold football shaped emblem centered in the back, and a gold "R" on the left chest, a member of the school's championship team.

Letterman "B" were Emmett Brown, Ray Henderson, John Lewis, Marion Ruffin, Charles Thompson, Alvin Webb, Charles Williams, and Norm Mober. Claude L. Lefebvre, Day L. McDuffy, Charles Johnston, Clayton Mayo, Thurman Vail, Marshall Smith, Thomas C. Smith, and John Smith. Letterman "A" were Bobby Waller, Leroy Bates, John Warden, and John Smith.

It was also announced here that Rayville will be a state performer in the "Red and White" football game against athletic schools in the state.

A visit to the state capital, plans to build the University of Mississippi of the Southeastern Conference and handling the state football game in the University of Arkansas of the Southwestern Conference.

LaSalle's Cage Teams Heading District Chase

OLLA, La., Jan. 27 (Special)—The LaSalle High School Tigers and Tigerettes are both perched on the top rung of the district 2-A basketball ladder with unblemished records.

The girls, coached by Miss Hazel Breithaupt, boast a 3-0 conference record with victories over the Pineville, Natchitoches, and Winnfield lasses.

The boys, under Coach Bill Walters, have compiled a perfect 5-0 record while defeating Pineville, Winnfield, Natchitoches, Jonesboro, Hodge and Ruston. The latest triumph for the LaSalle cagers was a 45-36 victory over the Ruston Bearcats.

The remaining first round conference game for the LaSalle teams will be with the Many boys and girls' teams in Olla on January 29.

Porkers To Delay Spring Grid Work For Weather Help

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Jan. 27 (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks will wait until March 3 to open spring football practice in hopes of having better weather.

"We have so much to do," Coach Bowen Wyatt said Tuesday, "that we can't afford to lose a single day because of snow or other bad weather."

Southeastern Conference rules allow 18 days of practice within a 20-day period.

Wyatt expects 65 gridders to be on hand for the spring work, but only 12 of these are lettermen. Thirty-three will be boys up from last fall's freshman team.

The head coach said his biggest problem will be finding replacements for ends Floyd Sagely and Ron Forester, guard Harold Spain and tailback Lamar McHan, all of whom have completed their eligibility. Arkansas won't have a returning letterman at end or at tailback.

"It just doesn't seem possible to replace Sagely and McHan," Wyatt added. "Both were All-Southwestern Conference stars last season."

In three of his four years in the National Football League, Doug Walker of the Detroit Lions has scored more than 90 points. He tallied 128 in 1950, 97 in 1951 and 93 in 1953.

Curtis Boys Beat Kelly, Massey In Wild Mat Brawl

The tag team brothers, Jack and George Curtis, mastered the combination of "Irish" Jack Kelly and Al Massey in a wild rally scramble at Gus Kallio's Arena last night, and the fans got an extra five minutes of action when an irate Kelly, refusing to admit defeat, started a riot with Jack that wound up with all wrestlers. Referee Bill Barney and Promoter Kallio tangling before it was all over.

The third and deciding fall lasted only four minutes as the Curtis boys teamed to put Massey away in a hurry with George applying the final pin. The match officially ended as Jack, leaping into the ring to protect his brother from a Kelly threat, threw Kelly out of the ring to get revenge for a similar action by Kelly in the second fall. That maddened "Irish" Jack to such an extent that the fans got the extra five minutes of action as fists flew freely before order was obtained.

The second fall, lasting ten minutes, was actually the wildest on the card and was brought to a climax when Kelly threw Jack Curtis out of the ring and then smashed his head into a wooden ring post. Jack staggered back into the ring to be caught in a pile driver that finished him.

The Curtis boys won the first fall in 18 minutes after softening Kelly with a series of head spins and slams with George applying the pin.

A pair of one-fall preliminaries went to draws with George Curtis meeting Kelly and Jack wrestling Massey.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 27 (AP)—Satchel Paige's late fling in major league baseball appeared to be over Tuesday.

And it was his elusive age that finally caught up with him.

The Baltimore Orioles released him outright so he might possibly make a deal for himself.

Satchel, because of his age, just couldn't fit into the plans to build up the Orioles," said Art Ehlers, the Baltimore general manager.

Nobody seems sure how old the star Negro is. Satchel himself has always been vague about the date of his birth in Mobile, Ala. The best guesses have him crowding 50.

Bill Vecek, the publicity vice baseball promoter who brought Paige into the majors six years ago, said Satchel gave him four different birth dates.

The Orioles, who acquired the Paige along with the St. Louis Browns from Vecek, listed him on the roster as born Sept. 11, 1904. That puts him over 49.

Besides his age, the Orioles had a high salary facing them in keeping Paige. He was paid a reported $25,000 last year by Vecek. The Orioles would have had to offer him at least $18,000 since the maximum set allowed between seasons is 25 per cent.

Gets Navy Release

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Jan. 27 (AP)—National amateur golf champion Gene Littler got his release from the Navy Tuesday and announced he was "seriously considering" turning pro immediately.

The Navy gave him a medical release because of recurring hay fever attacks.

They look now to heavyweight champion Don Cockell. He fights South Africa's Johnny Arthur Saturday and then is scheduled to tackle Roland LaStarza of New York in London.

Success for Cockell against LaStarza may bring him a crack at Champion Rocky Marciano—at least that's what British fans are hoping.

NBA Threatened By Policy Revolt Of Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27 (AP)—The Pennsylvania athletic commission Tuesday deferred for at least 60 days its plan to withdraw from the National Boxing Association, hoping to "reach agreement" with the N. B. A. "and preserve boxing."

Commissioner Chairman Frank Wiener said bluntly "something must be done about the awful matches recently seen on television—and we must restrain TV, too."

Wiener, backed up by commissioners George Jones, Jr., and John Holohan, gave these reasons why Pennsylvania "is very dissatisfied" with the N. B. A.:

1. "It showed weakness" in not suspending Archie Moore, lightweight champion, when he failed to sign to defend his title against Harold Johnson; instead Moore is defending again against Joey Maxim in Miami Wednesday.

2. "Apparently permits" managers of champions to select opponents in title matches—"And this is not good at all."

3. "We believe N. B. A. should insist that the top contenders always meet the champion in the division."

4. "We do not believe in return matches because it denies opportunities to other contenders."

5. "We do not believe that N. B. A. should permit managers to hold out for exorbitant guarantees."

Wiener charged further that the N. B. A. should take the lead in fighting for "drastic reduction" of the 20 per cent federal tax on admissions "because this is entirely too much and definitely hurts attendance and forces promoters out of business."

Jones said a letter embodying these suggestions, and complaints of the commission would be sent "immediately" to the N. B. A.

Tribe Drops Rugged Cage Tussle To Lions, 83-76

Rebel 5 Defeats Jonesboro-Hodge In Prelim, 48-32

By TED HECKATHORN

The Northeast State Indian quintet played an inspired game of basketball in the second half of their Gulf State conference encounter last night at the West Monroe gymnasium, outscoring the formidable Southeastern Lions by 11 points, but couldn't quite overcome an 18-point halftime deficit, and had to absorb an 83-76 loss. The West Monroe Rebels, in the 7 p.m. preliminary, downed the Jonesboro - Hodge Tigers, 48-32.

First half inaccuracy from the floor cost the Tribe the ball game, with ace Melvin Gibson, who usually hits from all angles, sinking only one field goal; while on the other hand, the Lions could not seem to miss. Their 6-foot-5 under-the-hoop trio controlled the boards, with 6-6 Jerry Askeroth dropping in 11 points, and sharp-shooting little guard, Dick Sharp, zipping away for 14 from long range, all in the first half.

The Indians, trailing 18-8 at the end of the first, and 45-27 at halftime, were led by Bill Bigby before intermission, with 14 markers. In the third quarter, the Tribe began to tighten the gap, closing to ten points midway in the period. Bill Crowe hit for five consecutive jump shots to spark the Northeast five in this period.

In the fourth, Crowe kept up the pace, and Gibson, who had been missing jump and crisp shots all evening, began to hit too, and Northeast closed to 73-65, and 76-69 with three minutes to go.

Seven points was the nearest the locals could come during the hectic final three moments, which were more like a football game plus a whistle chorus than a cage encounter.

Bigby was high for the game in the point department, with an even two dozen, and Crowe and Askeroth had 20 apiece. Two reserves, Harold Davis for the Indians, and Dick Sharp for the Lions, were the scrappiest defensemen on the floor.

Robert Bennett was the outstanding Indian player under the hoops, and was sorely missed in the final period after he had fouled out.

Dan McClure's West Monroe Rebels trailed the Tigers at the end of the initial period in the prelude, 11-8, but caught up and passed their visitors midway in the second, 22-11, and were never headed thereafter.

Outscoring Jonesboro-Hodge by 18 points in the last half, the Rebels were led by Richard Kincaid, who poured in 20 points, for game high-point honors, Gary Huckabay, who was next high for the home team, with 12 points, sank six long zippers, five in the third and fourth quarters.

Little Charlie Parker, Tiger guard, was the outstanding floor-man and point-maker for the invaders, with 17 points, and Dennis Fields and "Duggo" Fincher played an alert defensive game for the victors throughout.

Doyle Walker To Get Further Recognition

JONESBORO, La., Jan. 27 (Special)—The Jackson Independent local newspaper is sponsoring an award fund for Doyle Walker, winner of first place in the recent Shreveport Times "Player of the Year" contest.

The fund will be used to obtain a suitable award for this outstanding 195-pound tackle of the 1953 Jonesboro - Hodge High School football team, according to Ansley H. Colvin, Jr., editor. Names of the contributors are being published weekly.

Tidewater, Jet Master Capture Split At Hialeah

NEW YORK, Jan. 27 (AP)—Tidewater, one of the rare bargains of the turf, and the Marlboro stud farm's Jet Master each turned in two fast six furlongs in winning the two divisions of the Sunshine Purse at Hialeah Park Tuesday.

Tidewater, claimed by Ave Levenson of New York for $5,000 late in 1952, stepped the three-quarters of a mile in 1:10 3-5 in winning the first division for his third straight victory in Florida. And Jet Master promptly matched the time in the second division.

In front all the way, Tidewater scored by two and one-half lengths over Freedom Parley in the role of the $4.60 for $2 choice. Slim was another length back in third place.

Tidewater's time was three-fifths of a second faster than he required to win the inaugural opening day at Hialeah. Jet Master scored by a length from K. G. Marshall's Judge J. B. Rush Prince was a nose behind Judge J. B.

Fine Art, from the Mt. Vernon stables, saved a little strength for the final drive and finished by a neck over Pinechic in the feature race at Sunshine Park.

And Inlet Miss was just a length behind Pinechic to take third place.

A betting favorite, Fine Art paid $4.60 on a win ticket, he ran the 6 furlongs in 1:12 4-5. Ray Powers was the winning jockey.

The estimated 3,300 bettors put $171,274 into the mutual windows. It was the highest weekday handle of the season.

The daily double combination of Dolphic and Promising paid $126,900.

Andy Crevolin's Decorated ran away with the $10,000 Classified allowance feature at Santa Anita going a mile and one-sixteenth in the mud in 1:48 2-5. The 4-year-old colt followed the pacemaker horse, Swell, to the stretch and then carried on a burst of speed that turned him to a 2 1/2-length victory.

Six started. Skyled came from third place to get the place and Marcador the show. Marcador raced a trifle wide and could not get the leaders.

Decorated paid $10.40. Marcador was the public favorite.

The world "mind" originally was a verb signifying action, not a noun.

Another 'Cage Knifing' Rocks Detroit Schools

DETROIT, Jan. 27—UP—Shocked city and school officials worked hand in hand Tuesday to thwart gangsterism in schools following the fatal stabbing of a 12-year-old basketball player.

It was the Motor City's second "basketball" knifing in two weeks. But Detroit was not alone with the problem of rowdism and worse. Chicago and Cleveland experienced less deadly outbreaks. Los Angeles

Cards Pay Heavy For San Diego's Negro Infielder

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 27 (AP)—First baseman Thomas E. Alston—the first Negro ever to land on the St. Louis Cardinals' player roster—was acquired by the club from San Diego of the Pacific Coast League Tuesday night for cash in excess of $100,000 and four players.

Alston, a left handed swinger who will be 24 Jan. 31, batted .297 while slugging 23 home runs and driving in 101 runs for the Padres last season.

In addition to the cash payment, believed to be one of the largest sums ever paid for a Negro player, San Diego also receives Cardinal pitcher Eddie Evers, first baseman-outfielder Dick Sisler, now on the Redbirds' Columbus, Ohio, roster, and two players to be named later who will be optioned to the club.

The deal was completed after five weeks of negotiation. Cardinal President August A. Busch Jr., executive Vice President John L. Wilson and two directors of the club sat in on the final phase of the transaction.

San Diego President Bill Starr, Vice President Jack Gross and Manager Lefty O'Doul represented the Pacific Coast League club. While the Cardinals have other Negroes in their organization, Alston is the first to reach the National League club's official roster.

Alston, a navy veteran, is 6-foot-5 and throws right handed. After graduation from the Agricultural and Technical College of North Carolina in 1951 he joined the Jacksonville (Fla.) Eagles, a Negro team which barnstormed through Canada. He was born at Greensboro, N. C.

Brigadoon To Be Colossal Musical

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 27—Dear Staff: A wee bit o' Scotland has risen in Hollywood. And, kiddies, when I take a second think, it's not so wee, after all. I have just had an hour or so of wonder filmland "news covering," and I wish to make a report on "Brigadoon," now in certain stages of production at MGM. The boys and girls out there tell me that from it may come one of the most enchanting of all motion picture musicals.

Right off I learned that MGM constructed for this picture the largest single indoor set ever built at the studio, covering 40,000 square feet of floor space and depicting the rolling hills where the clans gather for a wedding ceremony. Take a listen: The backdrop is 425 feet long and fifty feet high, a whopper - as you can see. A lot of heather on it, too. It offers four main vistas, with views as far as 14 miles into the distance. The fellows said that 3,750,000 watts of electricity are used to illuminate the set - enough "juice" for 1550 average homes.

Of course it is the same "Brigadoon" that had a phenomenal run in New York, London and Glasgow, and it stars Gene Kelly, Van Johnson, and Cyd Charisse, with Johnny Green as musical director. What does this mean? The sights are set for a crackjack musical, as promised - no less. When I asked about the vastness of the set, I asked about the clans invited to romp over the heather - or around it, or whatever - and was told that the eight of them will be the MacGregor, Buchanan, Lindsay, Grey Douglas, Napier, MacBeth, Campbell and Clisholm clans all wearing their authentic tartans. Somewhere along the way the story dips back 200 years into Scotland's colorful history.

Often before I have traveled to the ends of the world by visiting a movie set. And as often I have been transported deep into history - even as far back as the Nile of the days of the Pharaoh, or to Babylon of Bible fame - or to Rome in the days of Caesar. Now I have seen Scotland of 200 years ago, as well as Scotland of the present - and it was a pleasant jaunt, and don't you kids forget it. I got the impression that Producer Arthur Freed, Director Vincente Minnelli and Johnny Green are out to top 'em all in the way of musicals.

Dear Boss: You did not tell us about the bagpipe bands, but we'll betcha there'll be plenty of the best Scotch music ever produced. We sure do envy you when you come back from the studios with your colorful travelogues - and we'll wager that your readers envy you too. Now for some of the week's chatter:

Hotelman: That's John Wayne. Bought it in Acapulco, Mexico... Where is Tallulah Bankhead these days? Oh, she's around - plenty. All sorts of irons in the fire - and commuting back and forth between New York and Hollywood... Times have changed, or have they? We hear that Terry Moore a few evenings ago asked Bob Wagner to take her to a night spot. Bob was otherwise engaged, so Terry asked Eddie Fisher. Once there was a time when you asked girl to the dance, but well... One of our columnist friends came up this week with this one: "Marilyn Monroe proves the old saying, 'When under suspension, be nonchalant - get married.'"

From Kentucky: Rosemary Clooney and Marion Carr... Correct address: James Mason lists it as on Pamela Drive in Beverly Hills, but there's no Pamela Drive in Beverly Hills. But that's okay. It's Mason's name for driveway on his premises, and Pamela is Mrs. Mason... Jaywalking, says Eddie Foy, Jr., is the kind of exercise that gives you a run down feeling. Hum-n-h...

Patrice Wymore, recent mother, wife of Errol Flynn, writes from Rome that she's homesick, and will return to Hollywood in March. And what else? To start that long planned nightclub act... If you miss seeing your favorite star around the studios these days, an inquiry probably will reveal that he or maybe she is in Europe, or at least in Las Vegas... or maybe in Mexico... Van Johnson is back in Hollywood after a holiday's sojourn in Las Vegas... Edmund Purdom, the English actor, has joined Howard Keel and Keenan Wynn in membership in Hollywood's unofficial sports car club... And Robert Taylor is home from Egypt where he did his starring stint in the MGM picture, "Valley of the Kings." While in Italy he picked up a coin being used in connection with the showing of "Julius Caesar," on which is engraved the profile of Louis Calhern as the famous emperor. And was Louis surprised, when Robert presented him with the coin... And to continue into the next chapter on Egypt, Howard Hawks and his company will be in Cairo in a few weeks to film "Land of the Pharaohs." Phil Harris says that throwing a kiss is something like applauding in front of your TV set... There is a quip going the rounds in Hollywood that the old Chaplin studios are offering in a neatly lettered sign, "Free Firewood."

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

Q. What are the 3 most important rules for profitable newspaper advertising?

1. Your advertising message should be newsy, friendly, informative, easy to read. Give facts and news about your merchandise and service.
2. Advertise regularly. Make your advertising do what successful salesmen do—call on customers and prospects consistently.
3. Insist on audited circulation reports that give you the FACTS about the audience that your sales messages will have when you buy newspaper advertising.

Q. Is there a measure for the value of newspaper circulation to an advertiser such as the standards a merchant uses in buying merchandise—for example, like STERLING or silver?

A. Yes—in the well known circulation standards of the AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS.

Q. What is the A.B.C.?

A. The A.B.C. is a cooperative, non-profit association of 3,450 advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers in the United States and Canada. Organized in 1914. Brought order out of advertising chaos by establishing a definition for paid circulation, rules and standards for measuring, auditing and reporting the circulations of newspapers and periodicals.

Q. What does A.B.C. do for me?

A. At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors makes a thorough audit of the circulation records of each publisher member. The results of each audit are published in an easy-to-read A.B.C. report for your use and protection when you buy newspaper advertising.

Q. What are the FACTS in A.B.C. reports?

A. A.B.C. reports tell you how much circulation, where it goes, how obtained and other FACTS that help you buy advertising as you would make any sound business investment—on the basis of known values and audited information.

Q. Are all publications eligible for A.B.C. membership?

A. No. Only those with paid circulation. This is important to advertisers because it is evidence that the paper is wanted and read.

Q. Is this newspaper a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations?

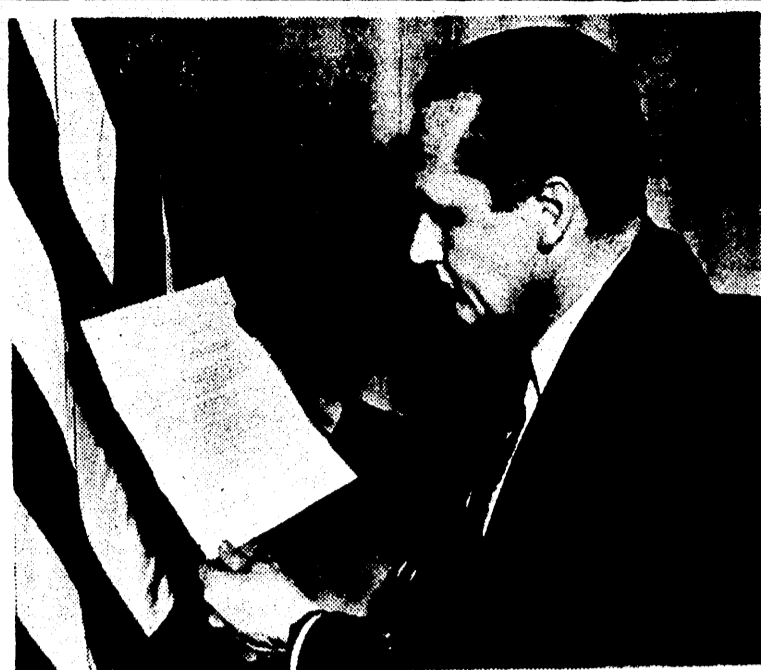

A. Yes. We are proud of our circulation. We want you to know the FACTS about the audience your selling messages will have when they appear in these pages. Ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

Recall Election Is Ordered For North Hodge

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 27—Gov. Robert Kennon's office said today a recall election involving all North Hodge city officials will be held March 9.

The recall, which mayor J. D. Robinson of North Hodge predicts will fail, names aldermen Henry L. Norred, J. W. Cole Sr., and C. D. Bartfield; town marshal Ardis L. Meyers, and the mayor.

The recall petition did not cite reasons. State law does not require a cause to be designated in the petition.

Robinson, however, said some property owners are against continued incorporation of the community of 780 particularly because of taxes sought to put in a new water system.

North Hodge is a suburb of Hodge, a paper mill community. Robinson said North Hodge residents will vote Monday on a $91,000 bond issue to finance a water system, calling for a 16-mill property tax.

Early Christian chronologists often dated events from the birth of Abraham which they placed at 2016 B.C.

409 Patients At Polio Centers In State Treated

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 27—Louisiana's four polio centers treated 409 patients in 1953, F. Owen Grace, Louisiana representative of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said today.

Some 24 other polio patients were treated at home or in other hospitals, Grace said.

Six polio patients, one of whom was stricken in 1952, died last year. The state's mortality rate among hospitalized patients was less than two per cent while the national average was approximately six per cent, Grace said.

Of the state's 64 parishes, 54 had one or more cases. East Baton Rouge had 74 to lead in the number of cases for the second straight year.

Richland Parish had the highest incidence with 49 cases reported from its population of approximately 27,000.

More than 50 per cent of the cases, 234, were children from one to nine years of age. The youngest were two children three months old and the oldest patient was a 46-year-old woman.

There were 112 cases in July, the highest monthly toll for the second consecutive year. January and February had the lowest monthly toll of seven cases. The highest weekly toll was 35 cases, recorded July 5-11.

The four-month period May-August had 238 cases, more than 72 per cent of the year's total.

Reds To Employ Children's Books To Sell Product

ISTANBUL, (U.S.)—Bulgarian Communists have opened a new drive to win the minds and hearts of the country's youth.

They plan to do it through children's books.

Bulgarian radio broadcasts picked up here report Communist bosses, in the saddle in that Balkan country for eight years, are calling on every resource to push the campaign.

The country's writers and artists are being prodded to get in line. The Ministry of Education and the Academy of Science are called on to "improve" the quality and quantity of children's literature.

The country's paper and chemical industries are asked to provide better paper and ink for the new children's editions.

A lengthy decree, published in Bulgarian news journals, says flatly children's books are in "bad shape." Not only are they "badly printed" and "improperly illustrated," but, most important, they "fail to glorify Communist heroes and the Communist way of life."

From now on, according to the decree, competitors will be staged to encourage new writings of "patriotic enthusiasm about Communist achievements."

Cattlemen Assoc. Will Meet Friday Night In Ferriday

FERRIDAY, Jan. 27 (Special)—County Agent Joe Milby calls attention of all members to the meeting of the Concordia Parish Cattlemen's Association which will be held Friday night at 7 o'clock at the R. E. A. office building in Ferriday.

Milby says that speakers on the program will be W. E. Mobroe, pasture specialist with agricultural extension service, Pinky Parham, and H. E. McFatter, animal husbandman, who will speak on beef cattle management and winter care.

The annual election of officers for the association will be held and membership dues will be collected.

Coal cinders are found in Roman ruins of Great Britain, indicating that the Romans burned coal to some extent during their occupation.

Mobley To Head Heart Campaign

JONESBORO, Jan. 27 (Special)—Everett L. Mobley, of Jonesboro, has been appointed district chairman of the Heart Fund's annual campaign during the month of February. He was appointed by Judge Ruvian Hendrick, of Shreveport, State Fund campaign chairman for the Louisiana Heart Association.

Mobley will direct fund raising activities in the parishes of Caldwell, Jackson, Lincoln, Morehouse, Ouachita and Union.

"Funds will be used locally and nationally to fight heart disease. Each year at least 152,000,000 man days are lost as a result of heart and circulatory disease. The cost is even more staggering in terms of loss of life, human suffering and treatment programs. We must find answers to solve this problem," he said.

Geology Will Be Taught As Local College Study

Geology 2, a course in historical geology, will be offered as a special class at Northeast State during the spring semester. The initial meeting of the group is scheduled Monday, February 1 from 7:30 to 10 p. m. in room 210 of the Science Building.

Following registration at that time, a definite class period will be determined, according to John McCarter, Jr., instructor of the course.

Persons may enroll in the class without having had geology 1, offered last semester to several who are associated with industrial plants in this area and others who desired the study to count toward a college degree. The spring course will be practical for the same classes of people, McCarter said.

The work will deal with fundamental concepts of geology and will apply to the study of the earth's history from the beginning of time to the present. Emphasis will be given to America in the consideration of each geological period and where these particular forms representing the periods can be found.

Period study is to include, in addition to rocks, inhabitants of the earth - both plants and people.

Economic consideration of each period will be a big factor in the course. The class will study the formations in the Pennsylvanian age which emphasizes coal, oil and gas, and other formations such as limestone and its use for buildings and the lime for cement.

Study of plants will range from their first appearance to the development of trees.

Fluoridation

One Dime A Year Is All It Costs

The low cost of controlled water fluoridation is discussed in the seventh in a series of articles published by the News-Star in cooperation with the State Health Department. The series is designed to present the facts about fluoridation to the people of Monroe.

A dime doesn't go far these days, but it can buy a whole lot better teeth for youngsters.

Water fluoridation, which reduces tooth decay by as much as 65 per cent costs about 10 cents a year per person. The lifetime cost is less than the price of a single dental filling.

Adding fluoride to a community water supply costs from five to 14 cents per person each year—depending on: per capita use of water; the amount of natural fluoride already present in the community's water; the type of fluoride compound used; and other factors.

DRINK MILK—This is how L. A. Bent of Milwaukee feels about the coffee price situation. In addition to plugging for milk, Bent charges 15 cents for the second cup of coffee in his restaurant to discourage high consumption. The first cup is a nickel. (AP Wirephoto)

Sometimes the annual cost per person is as low as the cost of five cigarettes. It is seldom more than you would pay for three newspapers.

The fluoride compound is added to a public water supply by a mechanical feeder, the same type of machine used by many communities to add chlorine, lime and alum to their water supplies. The cost of these feeders for small towns varies from $300 to $1,000, depending upon their type and capacities.

The cost of installing feeder equipment and the kind of compound to be used depend largely on the layout of the local water works plant and distribution system.

After the initial expense, the only cost of fluoridation is that of the fluoride compound. Most water departments can add and test for fluoride without taking on additional help. The average town of 10,000 using 1,000,000 gallons of water a day can add sodium fluoride to its water at a daily cost of $2.25, a town of 1,000 can do it for 23 cents a day.

Grand Rapids, Mich., a city of 175,000, has been adding sodium fluoride to its water supply since 1945. Last year the per capita cost was 14 cents.

Street Division In Dimes March Collects $3,500

A total of $3,500 has been collected by the Street Collection division of the March of Dimes, according to Ben Marshall, treasurer of the drive.

Leading the entire campaign in funds collected, the street solicitation division was ahead several days ago but the special events division, under Jerry Sugar, is expected to close the gap today, especially after last night's continuation of the polo auction.

The school division ranked third yesterday while the special donations division was fourth.

R. C. White, Jr., chairman of the special donations division urged business and labor to send their donations in as quickly as possible. He said, "Special gifts up to date, have been very poor but this division will gain considerably as soon as we receive the donations from all businesses and industries."

Scheduled for this coming Friday the Mother's March on Polio is expected to yield a considerable sum.

Ben Marshall, treasurer of the drive, reported that specific figures on the drive will be published shortly.

Ouachita Valley Boy Scout Council Stages One Of Its Biggest Meetings

In what was described as one of the "biggest board meetings" in the history of the Ouachita Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America, scout leaders from the entire council district assembled at the Virginia hotel last night at a spring planning conference.

A. B. Clarkson, council president, presided over the meeting, and Charles Melabarger, field scout executive, reviewed achievements of the entire council. He was followed by Jack Pankey, scout executive, who summarized in more detail the accomplishments and shortcomings. Each district chairman reported on his district, and Kirk Henry, of Memphis, deputy regional scout executive, talked briefly on national objectives.

Melabarger summarized the status of the council, pointing out that 43 per cent of the scouts of the council attended long-term camps, that there are now 2,908 boys in 138 registered units. He said that 39 per cent of the top leaders have had "basic" training.

Twenty-five per cent of the council scouts are first class or better scouts, and in Boys' Life subscribers, the Ouachita Valley council leads the entire District V, which is comprised of the states of Louisiana, Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama and West Florida.

Pankey compared actual council achievement with a ten point set of goals set last year. He said that in two-deep leadership, units reached 84, with a goal of 75. A goal of 75 unit leaders with basic training reached 44 actually, but Pankey cited that more were trained, but turnover in leadership was greater than anticipated.

A goal of 30 neighborhood commissioners fell short two, at 28, as did the summer activity program, by a fraction of the total activities planned in the Cub Summer program, troops with 10 days and nights of camping, and explorer expeditions.

Advancements in rank fell 407 short of the 1500 goal, and a goal of 770 first class scouts actually reached only 370. However, in Boys' Life subscriptions, the council reached 1440, almost 200 over the goal.

Planners sought a gain of 30 new units, but 17 were added. No dropped units were planned for, but 10 units dropped from the council. A total membership goal of 3,500 was set, but present membership was announced by Pankey as being 2,905.

Pankey cited the fact that a three year program was in progress, and that achievement awards for leadership in various areas. The areas named were charter renewal on schedule, quality programs, increased membership, and manpower.

"Although we have fallen short of our goals, our record indicates considerable progress," Pankey said.

Seven district chairmen or vice-chairmen reported on their area accomplishments in the overall program as outlined by Pankey.

Scott Weathersby, Louisiana Tech professor, reported on the Northwestern district; Roy Taylor, Winnaboo postmaster, on the Midland district; Lee Turns, chief clerk of the California Co. at Waterproof, vice chairman, reported on the Southeast district; O. M. Gresham, Jonesboro auto dealer, the Southwestern district; David Snyder, Bastrop businessman, Northern district; Haynes Harkey, Monroe attorney, Central district; and Frank Voelker, Jr., Lake Providence attorney, the Eastern district. All of those reporting except Turns is the district chairman.

Henry cited national goals as being a 40 per cent achievement of First Class scout rank, comparing with 23 per cent in the local council. Emphasis on conservation and camping will also be pushed forward, he said.

The regional officer complimented Pankey on his management of the council finances. He also cited a number of other goals for attainment in the coming two years as a continuation of the three year program.

Those attending the meeting last night included:

David Snyder, Bastrop; O. W. Rolly, Bastrop; Penn Landridge, Lake Providence; A. B. Chisum, Sicily Island; Red Foster, H. A. Cruse and Rupert Scott, Wisner;
